CRR Global has helped hundreds of companies, government agencies, and non-profit organizations around the world through our ground-breaking Relationship Systems Intelligence (RSI) work. RSI is the ability to maximize one's relationship with a group, team or system and to relate to it as a whole.

Teams with higher RSI are more productive and report greater team cohesion and satisfaction than teams with lower RSI.

“An intelligent team is a productive team.”

WHAT ARE WE DOING?

- Evolving coaching cultures within organizations
- Addressing challenges and experienced pain points
- Creating from, rather than reacting against, inevitable emerging change

HOW ARE WE DOING IT?

- Leveraging modern systems thinking
- Operationalizing cutting edge theory and research into practical coaching tools

WHY ARE WE DOING IT?

- To equip and empower the profession of coaching
- We believe Relationship is the most important and undervalued currency available
- To access information beyond our own personal capacity

Are you an executive or employee facing an organizational challenge within your company that needs to be addressed and explored?

Are you a coach who has landed a big client and needs help scaling up in order to accommodate their needs?

See what CRR Global's corporate services can do for you!

“My effectiveness as a trainer and coach working with individuals, partnerships and organizations has been greatly enhanced by the ORSC™ philosophy and training. In a custom design project with the CRR Global team, my business partner and I created a course powered by the ORSC™ model called Alchemy that is now being offered to facilitators and coaches throughout the world. I highly recommend tapping into the considerable resources CRR Global brings to their client engagements.”

CORPORATE SERVICES

CORPORATE TRAINING & CONSULTING

CRR Global offers internal coach and leadership training and consulting services to create the ground conditions for maximum organizational effectiveness.

Together with our most senior certified practitioners, we bring:

- ✓ 20+ years experience working with corporate and non-profit organizations.
- ✓ Experienced ORSC™ coach/consultants in 30 countries around the world.
- ✓ Capacity to work with any size organization, large or small.
- ✓ Multiple areas of application expertise; from change management to leadership development, employee engagement to team effectiveness.

CUSTOM PROGRAM DESIGN

If you would like to include more ORSC™ tools in your workshops or if you are seeking to develop a very specific program for a client's organization, CRR Global can help you design a powerful experiential program. We have many years experience developing customized workshops and interventions for a variety of industries.

CONSULTING & SUPERVISION SERVICES

Regardless of whether you are a fully-trained and practicing coach, or just launching your career, CRR Global offers consultation services to support client challenges and opportunities. Our consultants and supervisors are certified ORSC™ practitioners with a wide range of content expertise in working with teams, couples and families. They can help you customize and apply ORSC™ approaches and tools to your current practice.

MENTORING

Mentoring provides current and past students with the opportunity to develop themselves as ORSC™ practitioners. It is frequently used when changing professions (for example, moving from therapy to coaching). Others use mentoring to develop new competencies such as team or couples coaching. All our mentors are ORSC™ certified, experienced and successful practitioners in their areas of expertise.
