HAPPY HOLIDAYS
& A WONDERFUL 2020

BEST WISHES FROM OUR CO-FOUNDERS

We are nearing the end of a remarkable decade and a tumultuous year globally. The speed of change has become the new normal and being in right relationship with self, other and the larger whole, seems to be more challenging than ever before, even for the most enlightened! Being curious about what is “different” in the person across from me, slowing down to in order to speed up our efforts to combat the climate crisis, putting the electronic device down in order to relate face to face in real time with loved ones... all of these and more, are the daily challenges and opportunities we all face.

Against that backdrop, we want to acknowledge our gratitude to the CRR Global ORSC Alumni Community, Partners, Faculty and Administrative teams globally. Thank you for the resilience, pride and professionalism that YOU are bringing to the ORSC Model of CRR Global in embracing the challenge of emerging change. We wish you the best of holiday seasons regardless of how you celebrate!

In this newsletter, we hope to give you a taste of how Organization and Relationship Systems Coaching (ORSC™) communities are thriving and growing around the world – building right relationship virtually and in-person. We look forward to continuing to explore in the new year the evolving nature of relationships from ME to WE to IT!

Warmly,
Marita Fridjhon and Faith Fuller

Singapore

“If we’re not in right relationship with ourselves, how can we be in right relationship with others?” ORSCers in Singapore had the opportunity to experience deep democracy in their systems of self, during a community session with Faculty Members Alexandra Lantigua and Fuyuo Sato.

ORSCers in Singapore were in for more treats, as Faculty Members Frank Uit de Weerd and David Darst provided insights on systems-inspired leadership at a Next community gathering.

Australia

“Essence, Dreaming and Consensus Reality: relationships need all three levels of reality to thrive and access their full potential.” New and potential ORSCers explored different tools in order to identify the levels of reality from which their relationships functioned. ORSC Faculty Members Maddie Weinreich and Kiki Kessler led the session in Australia.

In November, nine coaches completed the very first ORSC training series in Australia! Congratulations, and stay tuned for more ORSC training to come!

China

A new group of ORSCers recently embarked on Fundamentals in Shanghai exploring relationships within systems. Another group completed the full series in Beijing.

Welcome and Congratulations!

China

Ken Ng, a member of the OAK certification cohort, recently facilitated a MetaSkills Wheel for a company in China. Outcomes for the team included a greater understanding of each other, identifying actions to move the organization forward and last but not least, awareness of different voices and diversity in the team.

United Kingdom

End of October, CRR Global Faculty Member Janet Frood introduced, during a community event in the UK, a tool that she developed to explore the third entity of a system – a practical way for helping a system see itself.

She also shared the various disciplines she draws upon as a systems coach, including the work of Brené Brown and Forest Bathing. This session was part of a series of sessions in which practitioners explore the connections between ORSC and other philosophies, models and tools.

Spain

In December, CRR Global's co-founders Marita Fridjhon and Faith Fuller met with ORSC Alumni and colleagues in Barcelona, Spain, for an event organized by local partners Green Light Go!

Japan - Congratulations to another group of newly graduated ORSCers!

United States

We would like to take this opportunity to celebrate Certification Team Member Tauni on her marriage in July of 2019! CRR Global co-owners, staff members and even a few front of the room leaders were in attendance, and what a beautiful night it was!

Cheers and congratulations to newlyweds Joel and Tauni Heringa-Wiley.

VIRTUAL SUMMIT 2019

WE DID IT!

our first-ever Virtual Summit*

THE UNBOXING SUMMIT

CRR Global held its first-ever virtual summit –the unboxing summit, the evolutionary power of ORSC™ – on November 13-14, 2019. The summit explored the challenges of our time — on the individual, partnership, organizational and societal level through ORSC.

Here are what some of our summit participants said:

... “ORSC plays an important role in creating pockets of more able and connected humans all over the planet. For this reason, we need to nurture local and global ORSC communities. In community, we are always stronger.”

... “Trust the system to be creative.”

... “Real deep global connection is possible — lots of warm, energetic & inspiring dialogues.”

... “I have already changed the way I am thinking and doing things as a result of some of the inspirational sessions. There has definitely been a shift in mindset.”

Once more, a big thank you to all of our speakers, hosts and contributors behind the scenes as well as the participants who helped turn this dream into reality!

As the summit is in a constant state of emergence and ever-evolving towards its next evolutionary stage, we look forward to co-create this platform further with all of you.

Moving forward, we’d love to explore (on a deeper level) the impact of the work in ORSC communities worldwide.

DREAMS & HARNESSING THE HOLIDAYS

It was a beautiful Sunday at home, a house warmed and decorated for the holidays. I began to look about the kitchen cabinets in search of some readily available ingredients in order to create the impossible meal that is rich in protein, low in fat, high and fiber and pleasing to our taste “bugs,” as my six year old calls them. I find myself pausing and temporarily ditching my scavenger efforts and begin scrolling through Facebook. To read on, please visit our blog page: crrglobal.com/blog

WORLD WORK PROJECT

“Do You See?”

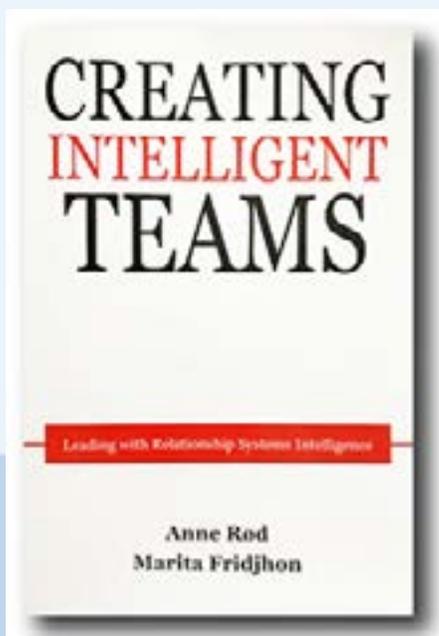

Jessica Sedler created a one-woman TEDtalk Cabaret for her world work project in the Harmony ORSC certification cohort. The theme of her talk was “see and being seen,” exploring the different selves in us and others. Her priority is to help people think consciously and intentionally about their relationships. Blending her passions of performance and relationship coaching, Jessica spread her message that “there is music in the space between when we look and we are seen.”

“Do You See” took place in October at the Toulouse Lautrec Jazz Club in London, UK.
